

WHERE: Giant City
Lodge, Makanda, IL

WHEN: May 18, 2013

WORKSHOP COST: $5
per person

LUNCH: Giant City
Lodge normal rates,
dutch treat

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

All rural landowners with wooded acreages should attend. If you consider your property a family asset to be passed down to future generations, please bring the next generation with you. Land management is a long term project and future landowners need to understand your goals and objectives and basics of land management to produce good quality timber and wildlife habitat.

Class size is limited. Please register early.

SPONSORS

Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, Department of Forestry

University of Illinois Extension
Service, Murphysboro Office

USDA Natural Resource
Conservation Service

Illinois Forestry Association

River to River Cooperative Weed
Management Area

CONTACTS

John Groninger, SIUC Department of Forestry
618.453.7462
groninge@siu.edu

Mike Long, Forestry Consultant
618.893.2307
mike@longforestry.com

Ryan Pankau, NRCS Conservation Forester
618 684_3064 ext. 109
Ryan.Pankau@il.usda.gov

Jesse Riechman, Coordinator SIPBA
618.967.4213
jesseriechman@gmail.com

Dustin Kelly, Autumn Berry Inspired
dustin@autumnberryinspired.com
217.766.9228

Karla Gage, Coordinator
River to River Cooperative Weed Mgt. Area
rtrcwma@gmail.com
618.998.5920

Sonia Lallemand, U of I Extension
618.687.1727
lalleman@illinois.edu

Emily G. Hanson, Urban & Community Forester 618.453.2517
emily@siu.edu

James Kirkland, Director
Illinois Forest Resource Center and Illinois Forestry Association Regional Director 618.695.3383
jakirk@illinois.edu

Responding to the Unexpected

A Goods from your Woods Workshop for the Rural Landowner and his/her family

Location: Giant City Lodge, Makanda, IL

Date: May 18, 2013

Time: 9:30 am–2:30 pm

Southern Illinois landowners have experienced ice storms, tornados, a super derecho, invasive non-native plants, and drought in the last few years and the planned management of their woodlands has been derailed by the damage caused by nature. The Goods from Your Woods Forestry Consortium presents a new workshop to help the woodland owner improve their management to respond to these unplanned events and continue to produce high quality timber and wildlife habitat.

Instructors

Dr. John Groninger
Department of Forestry
Southern Illinois University
Carbondale

Mr. Mike Long
Long Forestry Consultation

Responding to the Unexpected: A Goods from Your Woods Landowner Workshop

Preregistration is required

Name:

Address:

Phone:

Email:

Number attending:

Cost: $5 per person, plus dutch treat normal lunch fees payable to Giant City Lodge

Mail Registration to:

University of Illinois Extension
Service
402 Ava Rd.
Murphysboro, IL 62966

Phone: 618-687-1727

FAX: 618-687-1612

Email: uie-fjprw@illinois.edu

Or preregister on the internet at <http://web.extension.illinois.edu/fjprw/>

Mr. Jesse Riechman, Coordinator
Southeastern Illinois Prescribed
Burn Association

Mr. Ryan Pankau, Conservation
Forester Natural Resource
Conservation Service

Mr. Dustin Kelly
Autumn Berry Inspired LLC

Dr. Karla Gage, Coordinator
River to River Cooperative Weed
Management Area

Dr. Deborah Gunter
Illinois Forestry Assoc. Volunteer

PROGRAM AGENDA

9:30 Registration

9:55 Welcome and Introductions
Dr. Deborah Gunter

10:00 Unplanned Disturbances
and What They Mean for Our Woodlands
Dr. John Groninger

10:30 Break

10:45 Management Tools: TSI
and Herbicides

Mr. Mike Long

11:20 Prescribed Fire as a Management

Tool

Mr. Jesse Riechman

11:40 Modifications of Forest Management Plans in Response to Disturbance

Mr. Ryan Pankau

12:00 Lunch, Family Style
Chicken Dinner. Special treat:
Autumn Berry Jam: New Approaches, Eating a Forest Foe
Mr. Dustin Kelly

1:00 Field Trip: Prescribed Burning for Regeneration and Wildfire Protection at Touch of Nature (adjacent to Giant City Park)

Mr. Jesse Riechman, Dr.
Karla Gage

2:00 Wrap up and Evaluation
Dr. Deborah Gunter